HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY STATEMENT

Precision Polymer Engineering Limited aim to ensure that all activities carried out on their premises or undertaken by their staff (or their agents), are managed in such a manner so as to avoid, reduce, or control, all foreseeable risks to health and safety of any person(s) who may be affected by such activities to a tolerable level.

Through a strategy of continuous improvement, Precision Polymer Engineering Limited are committed to establishing the highest industry standards for Occupational Health & Safety (OH&S) management. The foundation for achieving this is based upon:

1. Compliance with current applicable OH&S legislation and other requirements to which the Company subscribes.
2. Compliance to the requirements of OH&S management system specification OHSAS18001. During early 2020 this will change to ISO 45001:2018.
3. Provision of suitable and sufficient information, instruction, training and supervision to enable its staff, students, subcontractors and visitors to comply with the company's OH&S policy and their own individual OH&S obligations
4. A safe working environment, with safe means of access and egress.
5. Safe equipment and systems of work.
6. Arrangements for the safe use, handling, storage and transport of articles, materials and substances.
7. Appropriate management procedures and consultative arrangements to monitor and audit compliance with OH&S policy.
8. Appropriate procurement policies to ensure that only competent contractors and suppliers are engaged by the Company.
9. Commitment to prevention of injury and ill-health and continual improvement in OH&S management and OH&S performance.
10. Setting and reviewing OH&S objectives.

To assist in the implementation of the OH&S policy, not only will appropriate external sources of information be consulted, but the Company will also seek advice from its Health, Safety and Environment Coordination Team and appoint adequate competent personnel to advise on OH&S matters.

It is mandatory that all personnel are made aware of, and comply with, the policies, procedures and work instructions that are issued by the company.

This OH&S policy statement is reviewed periodically to ensure its continued suitability and is available to interested parties upon request.
